

The Rivulis filter range of F3240 are hydraulic drive automatic screen filters. They are specifically designed for demanding filtration needs with high flow rate municipal and irrigation applications. These filters have a unique brush suction nozzle to provide high backflush efficiency. This filter can also be supplied without a controller for an easy automatable in field option or a semi- automatic filter.